Biographical Note

Alma Berk (1912-1995) established Berklee's Office of Public Information in 1959 and served as Chief Public Affairs Officer until her retirement in 1994. Mrs. Berk's husband, Lawrence Berk, founded Berklee in 1945 and their son Lee Berk served as the college's second president from 1979-2004. As publicity officer, Mrs. Berk's tenure encompassed the college's beginnings as the Schillinger House, its rebranding as the Berklee School of Music, and the transition to Berklee College of Music, as it is known today. The files, photographs, and other ephemera she collected remain the most comprehensive documentation on the college's early history.
